

POINT IMPOSSIBLE SHOREBIRD PROTECTION ZONE

DOGS ON LEAD AREA

Dogs must be on a lead at all times

The Shorebird Protection Zone stretches 2km from Thompson Creek river mouth, to the southwest extent of the Point Impossible Nudist Beach. The aim of the protection zone is to continue to reduce the impact of dogs, horses and humans on shorebird habitat whilst educating the community on shorebird conservation.

- This area is a breeding area for the threatened hooded plover and a known feeding and resting area for red capped plovers, double banded plovers, cormorants, terns and red necked stilts.
- Domestic dogs have been known to destroy shorebird nests and are known to chase adult beach-nesting birds, which can lead to prolonged absences from the nest or brood.
- Dogs are allowed off lead from Deep Creek to the northeast edge of the nudist beach throughout the year.

When enjoying the bird sanctuary, we ask that you keep to the water's edge and give the birds space. With your support we can help the bird life in this area thrive.

Fines for disobeying dog regulations apply.
